

EXAMPLES OF ACCEPTABLE DOCUMENTATION

- Dividend advice or takeover notice (from any company)
- Bank statement
- Council rates notice
- Tax assessment notice issued by the Australian Taxation Office
- Government correspondence
- Utilities and other bills – telephone, electricity, gas, water
- Certified copy of birth, marriage or death certificate of a relative (as long as you can prove kinship)
- Certified copy of certificates or academic results
- Electoral roll conformational letter – contact the Australian Electoral Commission (Note: if you ask the AEC for this information about another person they will not give it to you)
- Transport authority confirmation letter – Contact the Department of Transport in your state or territory
- Centrelink confirmation letter
- Bank or financial institution confirmation letter

Alternatively, if the address on your unclaimed money record was for a business or company, you can provide a document from that business (showing the address as it appears on the unclaimed money record).
